

CEREDIGION COUNTY COUNCIL

Report to:	Cabinet
Date of meeting:	25 May 2021
Title:	Ceredigion School's Anti-Bullying Policy
Purpose of the report:	To update Cabinet on the updated Anti-Bullying Guidance Document within Ceredigion Schools.
For:	Decision
Cabinet Portfolio and Cabinet Member:	Cllr Catrin Miles Schools, Lifelong Learning and Skills, Support and Intervention

Welsh Government consulted on proposals for the revised Anti-Bullying guidance between 14 November 2018 and 15 February 2019. A sample toolkit of resources also accompanied the draft guidance. It was proposed that the anti-bullying guidance was developed to be clearer and a more user friendly document. Ceredigion County Council responded to the consultation, along with 64 other sources.

Ceredigion Schools Anti-Bullying Guidance has been developed to equip our children and staff with the relevant information to tackle bullying. The policy reflects the current anti-bullying guidance produced by Welsh Government in November 2019, namely 'Respecting Others – Inspiring Rights, Respect and Equality', and has been developed in full consultation with staff, learners, parents/carers and school governors.

The new guidance document notes the change in terminology from previous policies, whereby the "victim" is now referred to as the "target" and the "bully" now being known as the "perpetrator". The variety of legislation which aims to protect the rights of children and young people to live a life free from abuse and harm, including bullying, is also listed and referenced within the document. As there is no legal definition of bullying, the Welsh Government has defined this as being:

'Behaviour by an individual or group, repeated over time, which is meant to hurt someone physically or emotionally'.

For the Ceredigion Schools whom have completed the KIVA anti-bullying programme, the additional definition below has also been included within the guidance:

"Harmful behaviour/degrading treatment which is

- deliberate
- repeated
- targeted at a less powerful person"

There is also clear guidance on how bullying can present itself, in addition to what would not be considered as bullying behaviour. This includes Hate Crime and online bullying.

The guidance provides Ceredigion Schools with a list of agencies and resources to support them in raising awareness of bullying related issues, and how these can be implemented within the curriculum. In addition, there are strategies listed on how Schools can also raise parents/carers awareness of bullying related issues.

There are a number of Ceredigion Schools who have completed the KIVA training, and this programme involves both universal and indicated actions to prevent bullying and to tackle cases of bullying that are brought to the attention of School staff.

In addition to preventing / identifying bullying behaviours, there are also options of consequences and resolution strategies included for consideration, and instruction for noting when action will be taken in relation to bullying incidents which take place outside of the Schools.

There is a section relating to the recording and monitoring of incidents included, along with highlighting the complaints procedure if required. There are also a number of appendices to support the guidance. It is a comprehensive guidance to support Ceredigion schools.

PART 1 – SCHOOLS

School's Anti-bullying front cover

It is good practice to demonstrate that the school policy has a new front cover each year designed by the pupils e.g. through competition during Anti-bullying week in November or through the school council.

See example below:

INTRODUCTION

Our Schools Anti-Bullying Policy has been developed to equip our children and staff with relevant information to tackle bullying. This policy reflects the current anti-bullying guidance produced by Welsh Government in November 2019, and has been developed in full consultation with staff, learners, parents/carers and school governors.

Bullying is one of the key issues about which children and young people express their concern. Our school affirms the right for every child to be safe to learn, to develop healthy relationships and to achieve optimally. For this to happen, it is important to prevent and challenge every form of bullying. The vision for our school is.....

Targets (victims) need to be kept safe and Perpetrators (bullies) need to be helped to change their behaviour and have the opportunity for any underlying emotional needs to be met. Specific support should be established for the most vulnerable, including those with protected characteristics and additional needs.

Online bullying by technology has been reported globally, nationally and locally as an increasing concern which presents an increasing challenge and one which benefits from wider partnership working - particularly in collaboration with the Police.

WHY HAVE AN ANTI-BULLYING POLICY AND GUIDANCE?

Legislation applicable to all schools in Wales, which aims to protect the rights of children and young people to live a life free from abuse and harm including bullying. Our policies adhere to the following legislation:

- The Rights of Children and Young Persons (Wales) Measure 2011
- The Equality Act 2010 – Chapter 1 of part 6 of the Act prohibits discrimination, harassment and victimisation in schools.
- Learner Travel (Wales) Measure 2008
- Education and Inspections Act 2006 – requires schools to establish policies to promote good behaviour, and in particular, prevent all forms of bullying among pupils. It also gives head teachers the power to impose disciplinary sanctions for inappropriate behaviour.
- Children Act 2004 – requires a local authority to promote co-operation between itself and various other bodies and persons with a view to improving the well-being of children in its area so far as it relates to education, training and recreation.
- Education Act 2002 – requires schools to have a complaints procedure. This is particularly important for parents and carers who feel that their school has not adequately dealt with a case of bullying.
- Human Rights Act 1998 – requires schools to have policies that comply with the Act, in particular, Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the Act which provides that no one must be subjected to torture or to inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.
- The Education Act 1996 – Part 4 of the Act makes provision in relation to children with special educational needs.
- United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child and United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities
- Ceredigion Strategic Equality Objectives 2014 – 18 (2.2)
- Criminal Offences Legislation which include; Malicious Communications Act 1988, Protection from Harassment Act 1997, Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015.

THE EQUALITY ACT 2010

Under the Equality Act 2010 local authorities and other public bodies including schools have a legal duty to meet the requirements of the Public Sector Equality Duties (PSED) to:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other conduct that is prohibited by the Act
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a relevant protected characteristic and those who do not
- Foster good relations between people who share a relevant protected characteristic and those who do not
- Prejudice related bullying involves hostility towards people who have characteristics which are protected by the Equality Act 2010. Such people include those who have disabilities or special educational needs, people whose ethnicity, race, appearance or heritage is different from that of those who engage in prejudice-related behaviour; people of the opposite gender; people who are lesbian, gay or bisexual; or people that are questioning their gender or who are transgender.

THE SPECIFIC DUTIES IN WALES

Public sector organisations in Wales, including local authorities and schools also have specific legal duties set out in the Equality Act 2010 (Wales) regulations 2011:

- Publishing a Strategic Equality Plan and equality objectives every 4 years;
- Engagement and involvement activities for groups with 'protected characteristics';
- Ensuring all published material is accessible;
- Assessing the impact of relevant policies and plans;
- Training and the collection of employment information;
- Promoting knowledge and understanding of the Equality Act across the organisation;
- Addressing unfair pay differences;
- Using procurement practice to contribute to the delivery of equality objectives; and
- Reviewing progress in implementing the Strategic Equality Plan and related action plans.

WHAT IS BULLYING AND WHAT ISN'T BULLYING?

There is no legal definition of bullying, the Welsh Government guidance defines bullying as the following:

‘Behaviour by an individual or group, repeated over time, which is meant to hurt someone physically or emotionally’.

If your school is following the Kiva programme, the below definition can also be added:

“Harmful behaviour/degrading treatment which is

- deliberate
- repeated
- targeted at a less powerful person”

Bullying is expressed through a range of hurtful behaviours: it can happen face-to-face or in the digital environment. It can be carried out by an individual or group but is generally executed in front of an audience to assert power or popularity. It may involve an element of secrecy so that adults are not aware of it. Bullying happens on purpose, happens more than once and targets someone and leaves them feeling powerless to stop it.

Bullying can take many forms, including:

physical – kicking, tripping someone up or shoving them, injuring someone, damaging their belongings or gestures of intimidation

verbal – taunts and name-calling, insults, threats, humiliation or intimidation emotional – behaviour intended to isolate, hurt or humiliate someone indirect – sly or underhand actions carried out behind the target’s back or rumour-spreading online – using any form of technological means, mobile phones, social networks, gaming, chat rooms, forums or apps to bully via text, messaging, images or video relational aggression – bullying that tries to harm the target’s relationships or social status: drawing their friends away, exploiting a person’s special educational needs (SEN) or long-term illness, targeting their family’s social status, isolating or humiliating someone or deliberately getting someone into trouble sexual – unwanted touching, threats, suggestions, comments and jokes or innuendo. This can also include sextortion, so called ‘revenge porn’ and any misuse of intimate, explicit images of the learner targeted prejudice-related – bullying of a learner or a group of learners because of prejudice. This could be linked to stereotypes or presumptions about identity. Prejudice-related bullying includes the protected characteristics¹⁰. Prejudice can and does also extend beyond the protected characteristics and can lead to bullying for a variety of other reasons such as social status and background.

Some behaviour, though unacceptable, is not considered bullying. The Welsh Government expects these instances to be dealt with in accordance with the school’s behaviour policy to prevent an incident potentially escalating to become bullying. Please refer to your School’s Positive Behaviour Policy.

The following examples are cases which would not normally be considered bullying:

friendship fallouts – a friendship feud may however deteriorate into bullying behaviour that is enabled by the fact that former friends have an intimate knowledge of the fears and insecurities of one another. Children and young people who are targeted by former friends feel the betrayal deeply and are frequently isolated from their former friendship group a one-off fight – the Welsh Government expects it to be addressed according to the school’s behaviour policy unless it is part of a pattern of behaviour that indicates intentional targeting of another individual an argument or disagreement – between two children or young people is not generally regarded as bullying. Nevertheless they may require assistance to learn to respect others' views a one-off physical assault – the Welsh Government expects it to be stopped and addressed immediately. Police involvement in cases where physical assault has happened may also be appropriate insults and banter – children and young people will often protest that an incident was a joke or banter. If two friends of equal power are in the habit of bantering with one another it is not deemed to be bullying. If one learner uses banter to humiliate or threaten another who is powerless to stop it and made fearful by the act, the border between banter and bullying is likely to be crossed a one-off instance of hate crime – unless this behaviour is repeated it would not usually be regarded as bullying but it would be criminal behaviour, which the Welsh Government would expect to be dealt with in accordance with the school's behaviour policy and other relevant policies, such as the school's 'Prevent' policy. If considered necessary, the school would also need to involve the police.

HATE CRIME

A Hate Crime is defined as a criminal offence.....

A Hate Incident is defined as a non-criminal offence.....

which is perceived by the target (victim) or any other person to be motivated by a hostility or prejudice, based on a person's actual or perceived disability, race, religion and belief, sexual orientation and transgender.

Put simply, if someone targets you because of who you are or who they think you are along the lines of disability, race, religion and belief, sexual orientation and transgender then this is a Hate Crime or a Hate Incident. Hate crimes are serious criminal offences that have a higher level of sentencing. Where someone is targeted because of their age or life style choice, (for example Goths), then this is also recorded as a Hate Crime or a Hate Incident, but without the enhanced level of sentencing, although support services would still be available.

'Mate Crime' is when someone has been targeted by so-called 'friends', usually because of a learning disability. Victims are often exploited for their money, accommodation or possessions.

Hate Crime or Hate Incidents may include –

- Verbal abuse
- Offensive graffiti
- Threatening behaviour
- Damage to property
- Assault
- Cyber bullying
- Abusive texts, emails or phone calls
- Taking money, valuables or your possessions from you.

Most Hate Incidents within schools are most effectively managed via the Anti-Bullying Policy and with a restorative practice approach. Serious Hate Crimes may be reported as outlined below -

Hate Crimes or Hate Incidents may be reported to the Police on 101 or 999 in an emergency. All victims of Hate Crime in Dyfed Powys are appointed a specially trained Hate Crime Support Officer.

Hate Crimes or Hate Incidents can also be reported to the Official National Hate Crime Report and Support Centre for Wales. This is a confidential reporting and support service run by Victim Support

HOW WE WILL RAISE AWARENESS OF BULLYING AND HOW WE EMBED ANTI-BULLYING WORK IN OUR SCHOOL CURRICULUM?

Example paragraph:

At (INSERT SCHOOL NAME) we raise awareness of bullying related issues as part of our assembly programme on a termly basis, and during specific Health and Well-being sessions planned in the termly curriculum map. Our curriculum work includes the following programmes/sessions:

- School Beat
- KiVa
- LGBTQ / Stonewall Cymru
- NSPCC – Speak Out Stay Safe
- Hafan Cymru – Spectrum
- Welsh Women’s Aid – S.T.A.R
- HWB resources
- Anti-bullying week
- Embedding anti-bullying sessions within a range of areas of learning, e.g. Religious Education, Drama, History.

If your School is following the KiVa programme, please include the below information:

The KiVa Programme

As a school we are adopting elements of the KiVa anti bullying programme. KiVa is a research-based antibullying program that has been developed in the University of Turku, Finland.

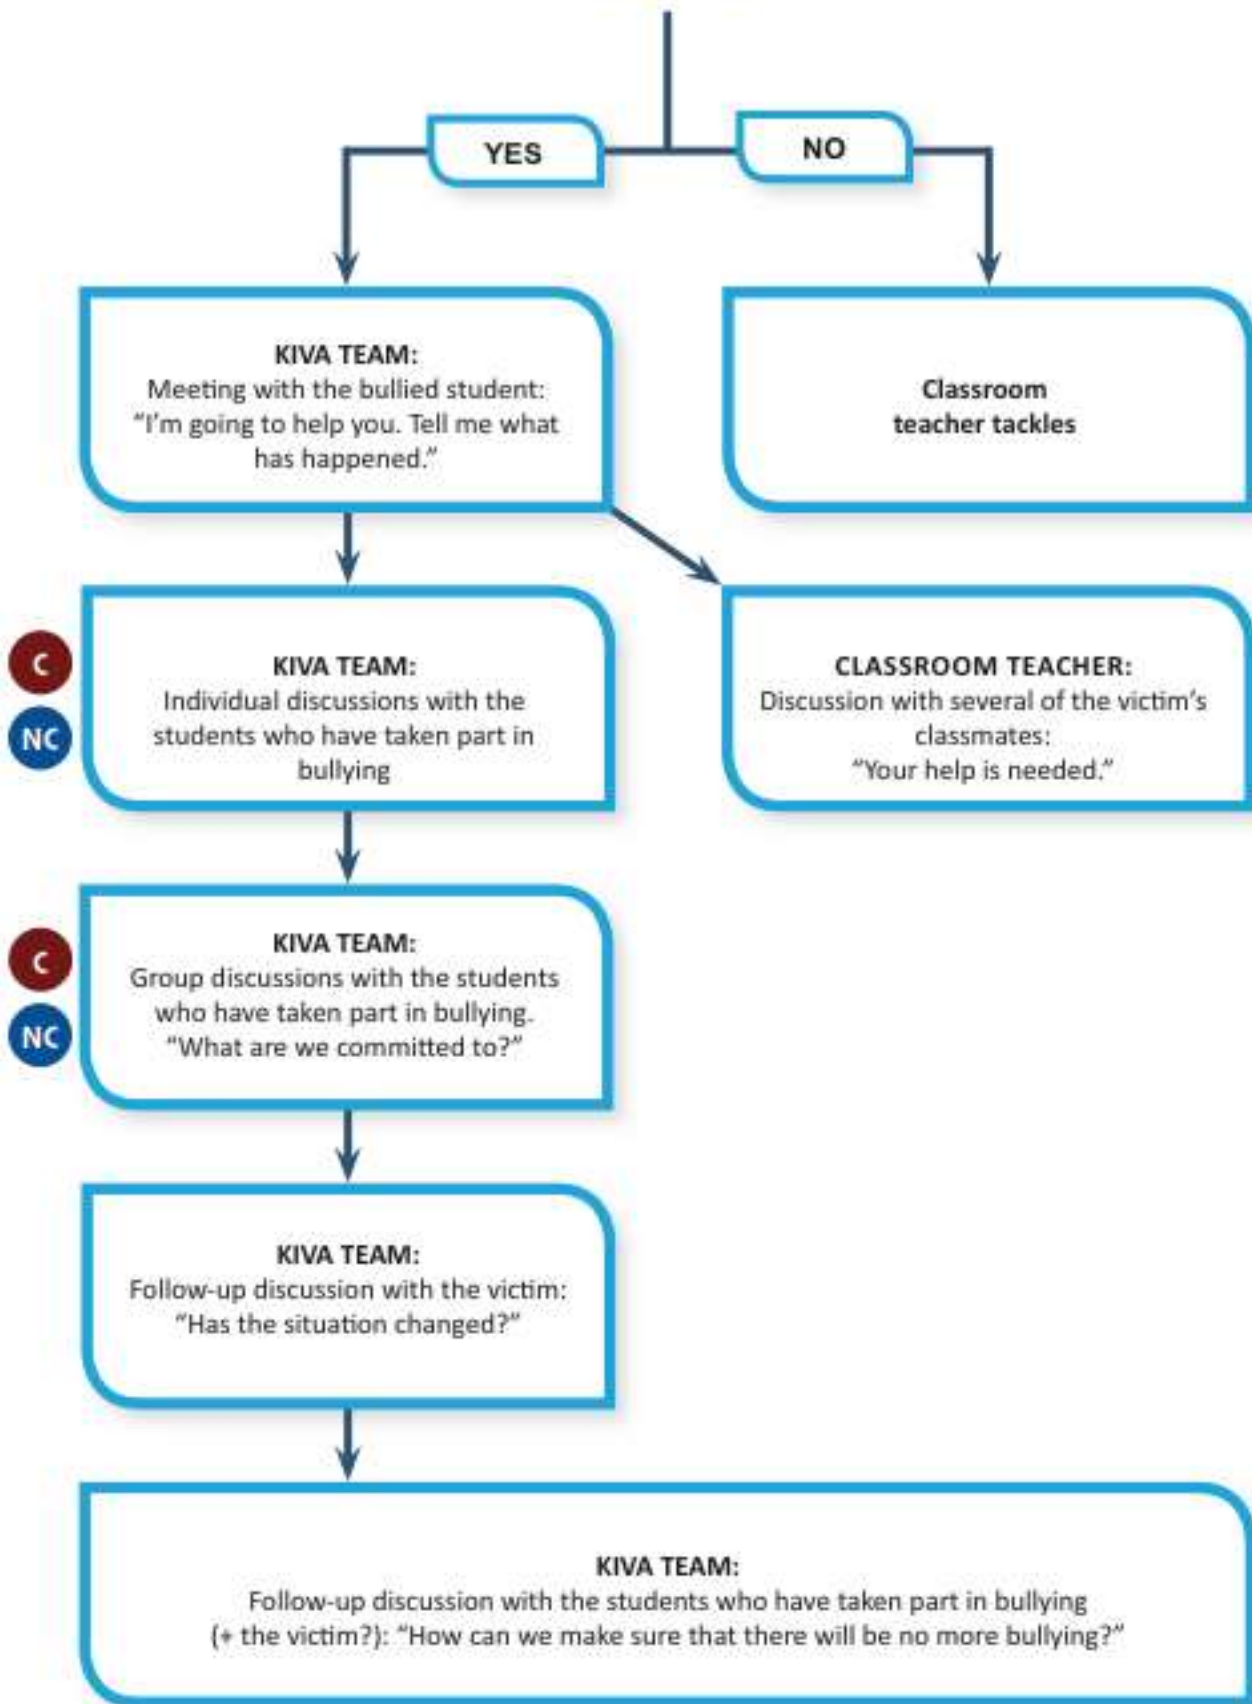

The KiVa program involves both universal and indicated actions to prevent bullying and to tackle cases of bullying coming to attention. The universal actions are targeted at all students in a school. They refer to efforts made to influence the group norms and to build capacity in all children to behave in constructive ways, to take responsibility for not encouraging bullying, and to support the victims. The indicated actions take place when bullying has come to the attention of school personnel. Each particular case is handled in a series of individual and group discussions between the school’s KiVa team and the students involved. Several prosocial peers of the victim are challenged to provide support for the victimized classmate.

We have a zero tolerance approach to bullying, and all pupils in our care have the right to feel safe and respected, all pupils are made aware of our behavioural expectations and the consequences of bullying actions within the school. For example, consequences could look like:

- Time-out. Removing the pupil from the class or situation, not so much as a punishment, but rather as a time when they can think about their behaviour and often a solution
- Denial of privileges, with the opportunity to redeem one’s self
- Individual pupil management plan
- Parental involvement
- Counselling
- Removal of bully away from the victim (e.g. into another class)

Summary: Tackling acute cases of bullying

Is the bullying systematic?

WORKING IN PARTNERSHIP WITH PARENTS

At our school, we raise parents awareness of bullying related issues policy and procedure via the following strategies:

- Leaflets and newsletters home
- Open days
- Anti-bullying weeks
- The school prospectus
- The school website
- Workshops

WHAT ARE THE SIGNS THAT A CHILD OR YOUNG PERSON MIGHT BE EXPERIENCING BULLYING?

A child may tell you directly that they are being bullied but if not, other signs to look out for, which might indicate they are being bullied include:

- Having damaged clothes or school bag
- 'Losing' belongings
- Visible injuries such as cuts or bruises
- Reluctance to go to school or take part in group activities they previously showed interest in
- Presenting as tired due to difficulties sleeping
- Changes in behaviour
- Noticeable changes in their mood – becoming withdrawn, depressed, angry, tearful, upset, anxious or unhappy
- Wanting to change their journey/route/time of travel to school
- Wanting to change school.

HOW WE WILL PREVENT BULLYING IN OUR SCHOOL AND ON JOURNEYS TO AND FROM SCHOOL?

Our anti-bullying prevention is achieved by taking a whole school approach to tackle this issue. This includes the following strategies:

- Strong leadership and teachers that model values and high expectations, thus leading by example
- Being a rights respecting school (by taking part in the UNICEF rights respecting programme)
- Respecting and valuing the pupil voice in all that we do (e.g. school council)
- Focussing on pupils health and well-being and monitoring and evaluating this (e.g. emotional health check-ins)
- Promoting healthy relationships across the school both in class, during break times and during off-site activities
- Providing a comprehensive health and well-being curriculum that meets the needs of all learners
- Creating an environment that promotes health and well-being (e.g. safe spaces to play, chill out areas, KiVa programme, adequate supervision).
- Establish and maintain strong and responsive care, support and guidance (e.g. circle time solutions, worry box, peer mentoring support)
- Effective communication and effective partnership working with parents/carers

- Support professional learning for all staff, tailored to meet their needs and responsibilities

HOW DOES OUR SCHOOL RESPOND TO INCIDENTS?

At (INSERT SCHOOL) we have a duty of care to protect all of our learners and to provide a safe, healthy environment. The following steps are taken when dealing with bullying:

- Discuss the incident with each pupil individually and record the information (sign and date)
- Phone the parents of the target (keep minutes of the conversation)
- Phone the parents of the perpetrator (keep minutes of the conversation)
- A meeting is offered to all parties individually to discuss all information gathered and a way forward is planned in partnership with parents and learners. Any disciplinary actions against the perpetrator are decided within this meeting, including further intervention support. Any further support required by the target (victim) e.g. counselling, assertiveness skills, will be planned and discussed in a separate meeting
- A restorative circle approach will be offered to all parties if they wish to engage and participate in this intervention. Restorative circles are only carried out with the agreement of all parties and when all parties are ready to do so.

Important to note, when recording the incidents, that the following forms are completed:

- Use of 'Ffurflen Gwrth-fwlio' (Anti bullying Form)
- Use of 'Ffurflen Cofnodi Bwlio' (Bullying Recording Form)
- Use of 'Llyfr Cyswllt' (Contact Book)

WHEN THE SCHOOL WILL TAKE ACTION IN RELATION TO BULLYING OUTSIDE THE SCHOOL?

Section 89 (5A) of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 gives headteachers a statutory power to regulate learner's behaviour in these circumstances 'to such extent as is reasonable'. Bullying may be an example of where headteachers use this power. Individual schools are best placed to make judgements about what is reasonable in their particular circumstances. As a school, we will take into account the following factors when making a reasonable judgment about when to get involved in a bullying incident which occurs outside of the school premises.

Off site activities where we will take action against bullying and other inappropriate behaviour includes:

- School trip
- Sporting activities
- Work experience placements
- Educational visit
- Residential visit
- Behaviour on the way to and from school
- Behaviour when wearing school uniform in a public place e.g. lunch time in town

Cyber Bullying

If online bullying is impacting on the well-being of a pupil in our care regardless of whether or not it occurred during school times, we will intervene accordingly to ensure the safety of our the target (victim).

Being under the charge of a school staff member

If a pupil is under the supervision of a member of staff and an incident is witnessed, then we expect appropriate action and steps to be followed, in line with the school policy.

Transport

If incidents occur during the journey to and from school, educational visits or other placements such as work experience or college courses, be it on a bus, taxi, walking, cycling, we will intervene and take the appropriate actions. We will ensure that the behaviour does not threaten the health or safety of learners, staff or members of the public. We will provide reassurance to learners who may feel threatened or intimidated by the behaviour of a small minority of their peers or from 'stranger danger'. We will also provide reassurance to members of the public about school care and control over learners and thus protect the reputation of the school.

As a school, we will consider taking the following steps to ensure the safety of our pupils during travel times:

- Talking to the local police about problems on local streets (if necessary seek a police presence at trouble spots)
- Talking to the transport company about bullying on buses and provide advice to drivers on how to report incidents
- Allocating senior pupils to a bus close to where they live
- Operating a bus buddy system whereby senior pupils report incidents to designated members of school staff
- Considering involving parents or members of the local community
- Talking to the head of another school whose pupils are bullying off the premises
- Mapping safe routes to school, and tell pupils about them
- Talking to pupils about how to avoid or handle bullying outside the school premises

HOW TO REPORT BULLYING?

At our school we encourage all our learners to "tell" a member of staff about worries, concerns and upsetting behaviours, that are affecting their well-being. Our door operates an open door policy for parents/carers to ensure that we intervene at the earliest possible opportunity. If parents/carers or pupils have concerns relating to bullying, our school champion is Headteachers must present a report to their Governing Body on a termly basis. The information is collated by the LA's Governing Body Section and reported to the LA and the Local Safeguarding Children's Board.

A 'porforma' to capture information to decide whether an incident fits the criteria for a bullying incident has already been distributed to schools.

RACIST INCIDENTS

Welsh Assembly guidance stipulates that schools are duty bound to inform the LA of all racist incidents. Although 'racist incidents' may have been dealt with, and recorded in the above table, they should also be logged separately here so that the LA has a record on a termly basis.

PREVENTING BULLYING – SOME EFFECTIVE INTERVENTION

Circle Time The philosophy behind Circle Time or Quality Circles reflects mutual respect and a capacity for children and young people to be given opportunities to talk, share concerns and participate in decision-making. Of paramount importance to Circle Time is emotional safety, which is produced by firm ground rules designed to encourage respect for all participants. The Circle Time model can be applied to many settings in which children and young people spend their time. Circle Time creates a positive ethos by providing: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• A space for listening and for being listened to• A time and a place for reviewing and reflecting on what has been learned• A feeling of community and responsibility The exchange of views and ideas can cover a range of different topics, including personal and social relationships as well as bullying. Circle Time can help support the personal and social development of children and young people. It can be an opportunity for them to be heard, by their peers and adults, in a secure and supportive atmosphere. Circle Time builds the esteem of each participant and encourages people to take responsibility for the consequences of their actions. It therefore has an impact upon many areas of their lives including: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Emotional intelligence• Skills of assertiveness• Individual motivation and achievement• Enhancing positive relationships• Personal and social development• Producing calm behaviour and self-discipline• Recognising and managing their own feeling and other peoples	Buddying Schemes These schemes are where older students support younger ones in a range of different issues, including bullying, forming friendships and coping with transitions. Groups of younger children might be of the same age. These schemes can offer a listening ear and non-threatening support for all children and young people and provide them with a sense of security. Buddying Schemes can be set up for any age group as they are based on the fact that young people, when experiencing some concern or worry, most often seek out other young people. This may happen anyway in an informal manner in any environment but a buddying scheme gives it a structured and supervised approach. For schemes to be effective the senior buddies need some training. This does not of course make them professional counsellors in any way. They are simply young people to help them think about and reflect on concerns they may be experiencing. The basis of any buddying scheme is the understanding that those involved have similar characteristics with those being helped, for example age or life experience. Training could include: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Ground Rules• Responsibilities• Duties• Attitudes• Questioning Skills• Listening Skills• Confidentiality• Child Protection Issues The aim of the training would be to promote a sensitive approach to listening that encourages others to express and explore their frustrations. Examples of what a buddy can do: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Help children and young people who are being bullied- Help children who are lonely and don't seem to have any friends- Help young people cope with transitions and new environments- Represent the view of young people- Make suggestions about how their environment may be improve
