Key facts

As at 31 March 2023, the Council had £55.5 million of useable financial reserves³. This is equivalent to 29% of the Council's annual spending on services⁴.

Ceredigion has 2% of its 46 areas considered to be within the most deprived 10% of areas in Wales, this is the third lowest of the 22 unitary councils in Wales⁵.

The population of Ceredigion is projected to decrease by 3% between 2023 and 2043 from 70,900 to 68,800, including a 13% decrease in the number of children, a 10% decrease in the number of the working-age population and a 16% increase in the number of people aged 65 and over⁶.

The Auditor General's duties

We completed work during 2022-23 to meet the following duties

- Audit of Accounts
Each year the Auditor General audits the Council's financial statements to make sure that public money is being properly accounted for.
- Value for money
The Auditor General examines whether the Council has put in place arrangements to get value for money for the resources it uses, and he has to be satisfied that it has done this.
- Sustainable development principle
Public bodies need to comply with the sustainable development principle when setting and taking steps to meet their well-being objectives. The Auditor General must assess the extent to which they are doing this.

³ We define useable financial reserves as reserves usable for revenue costs, where the purpose is not protected by law. This is the total of the general fund, earmarked reserves, and schools' balances. It excludes Housing Revenue Account reserves, capital receipts and capital grants unapplied.

What we found

Audit of Ceredigion County Council's 2022-23 Accounts

Each year we audit the Council's financial statements.

To meet the Auditor General's duties we complete specific projects, but we also rely on other audit work, and the work of regulators such as Care Inspectorate Wales and Estyn (the education inspectorate). We take the findings of our audit work into account when assessing whether the Council has put in place arrangements to secure value for money. Our findings and conclusions are summarised below.

For 2022-23:

- the draft statements were presented for audit on 18 August 2023. This was after the deadline of 31 July 2023 set by the Welsh Government.
- the quality of the draft statements presented for audit was generally good.
- the Auditor General gave an unqualified true and fair opinion on the Authority's financial statements on 7 February 2024, after the deadline agreed with the Welsh Government of 30 November 2023. The audit was delivered later than in previous years, mainly due to the impact of new auditing standard requirements. These were covered in our audit plan considered by the Audit Committee in June 2023.
- the Authority's Annual Governance Statement and Narrative Report were prepared in line with the CIPFA Code and relevant guidance. They were also consistent with the financial statements prepared by the Authority and with our knowledge of the Authority.
- a number of changes were made to the Authority's financial statements arising from our audit work, which were reported to the Audit Committee in our Audit of Financial Statements Report in February 2024.
- in addition to the Auditor General's responsibilities for auditing the Authority's financial statements, he also has responsibility for the certification of a number of grant claims and returns. Our work to date has not identified any significant issues.
- the Auditor General issued the certificate confirming that the audit of accounts for 2022-23 has been completed.

Assurance and risk assessment review

We reviewed the arrangements the Council has put in place to secure value for money in the use of its resources. We produced the following reports from our assurance and risk assessment work:

- setting of well-being objectives – we looked at the Council's approach to setting its well-being objectives. We found that the Council has applied the sustainable development principle in setting its well-being objectives, however, it could draw on more extensive citizen involvement and improve monitoring and reporting.
- use of performance information –service user perspective and outcomes – we looked at the service user perspective and outcome data provided to members and senior officers, and how this information is used. We found that the performance information provided by the Council to senior leaders to enable them to understand the service user perspective and the outcomes of the Council's activities is limited.

Planning Service Follow-up Review (August 2023)

During 2022-23, we looked at the Council's progress against the ten recommendations made in our Review of the Planning Service 2021 report. We found that the Council has taken swift action to begin responding to the original recommendations. However, the Council now needs to further refine its Development Management Committee procedures and governance arrangements so that they are fully understood, applied and embedded in a way that is transparent and provides value for money for the Council as a whole.

Digital Strategy (December 2023)

During 2022-23, we examined the Council's strategic approach to digital, and specifically the extent to which this has been developed in accordance with the sustainable development principle; and that it will help to secure value for money in the use of the Council's resources. We found that the Council is taking an integrated approach to developing its digital strategy and is using internal and external data to inform it, but does not yet have arrangements in place to assess its value for money or impact.

Other inspectorates

We also took into account the reports of Care Inspectorate Wales (CIW) and Estyn, as well as any subsequent actions taken by the Council in response.

Ongoing work

We also looked at the key challenges and opportunities facing the Council. These could have an effect on the Council's ability to meet its legal obligations in relation to the sustainable development principle and the use of its resources.

Our planned work for 2023-24 includes:

- Assurance and risk assessment
- Thematic review – Financial sustainability
- Thematic review – Commissioning
- Unscheduled Care (2022-23 audit work). Report being finalised.

The Auditor General is independent of government and was appointed by Her Majesty the Queen. The Auditor General undertakes his work using staff and other resources provided by the Wales Audit Office, which is a statutory board established for that purpose and to monitor and advise the Auditor General. The Wales Audit Office is held to account by the Senedd.

The Auditor General audits local government bodies in Wales, including unitary authorities, police, fire and rescue authorities, national parks, and community councils. He also conducts local government value for money studies, assesses compliance with the remaining requirements of the Local Government (Wales) Measure 2009 and may undertake special inspections under the Local Government and Elections (Wales) Act 2021.

Beyond local government, the Auditor General is the external auditor of the Welsh Government and its sponsored and related public bodies, the Senedd Commission, and National Health Service bodies in Wales.

Audit Wales is the non-statutory collective name for the Auditor General for Wales and the Wales Audit Office, which are separate legal entities with their own legal functions, as described above. Audit Wales is not a legal entity.
